The Sealing of This Cycle

O my beloved, thou art in my heart most chosen, being able, then, to bear this light that is also given now to elementals to share. They have gathered tier upon tier, their peeping faces coming through flowers and nosegays, now peeping right through. They are the innocence of the budding flower and of their souls' delight to be in Camelot each hour. They would adorn the bride and the Bridegroom.

Beloved Archangel Uriel

The Sealing of This Cycle of the Lord's Resurrection

Hear, O light! I AM Uriel! I descend with ten thousand legions of bands of Helios and Vesta, golden pink glow-ray bands of angels filled with resurrection's light who come for the sealing of this cycle of the Lord's resurrection.¹

I AM in that joy. I AM in that sustainment of cosmic purpose that comes out of the majestic service of the legions of the sixth ray, who by their ministration do sustain the joyous love of his Word throughout the systems of worlds.

O my beloved, thou art in my heart most chosen, being able, then, to bear this light that is also given now to elementals to share. They have gathered tier upon tier, their peeping faces coming through flowers and nosegays, now peeping right through. They are the innocence of the budding flower and of their souls' delight to be in Camelot each hour. They would adorn the bride and the Bridegroom.

Thus, the seven archangels gather once again to fill the quadrant of life on Ascension's Hill.² Here we salute now the Lamb and the Lamb's wife,³ for we would not leave The Quest for the Resurrection conclave of light without a glorious welcome to beloved Jesus and Magda entering the New Jerusalem as they go from city to city about the earth but make their home here on the side of the West. For here is their light most needed, for here are souls fashioned in a mighty creativity of light. Souls absorb the imagings of other souls, and these in turn are multiplied around the earth. And so it is the soul-pattern of Jesus and Magda that we would transfer.

There Are Souls Who Must Come and Be Dedicated upon This Altar of Living Light

Rise, O rise, souls of light, you who are throughout the earth! [Audience rises.] O beloved ones, cherished hearts who would come to manifest that creativity to portray the inner spheres, I bid you welcome and now to rise to that high calling. So now, come. Come, then. Come to the City of the Angels and know that here your calling is to give the entire world the glorious image of the light.*

Won't you, my beloved, remain seated as I call for those souls around the world to rise to their great calling of perfection. [Audience is seated.]

I ask that the power of the Spirit of the Resurrection now go forth into the very heart of the earth. I call for souls of light to arise and to come to this city of light, that we may dedicate anew the soul-pattern of victory.

I AM Uriel. I would release a spiral unto you, if you would but be still now and hear my song and hear my prayer and understand the inner work of the seven archangels and the twin flames of Christhood in your midst. Thus, we welcome the hierarchies of the elements and we welcome the very light of Alpha and Omega. We come now in that invincible God-freedom. We salute each blessed heart.

There are souls who must arise from all of the nations near and far. There are souls who have a crown, a jewel, a virtue, and a willingness to be, who must come, therefore, and be dedicated upon this altar of living light.

*Uriel is calling for specific souls of light on inner levels to come to Los Angeles, the City of the Angels.

I AM Uriel, sent by Almighty God to seal each one of you in that mighty resurrection flame. Therefore I seal my messengers of old, and Lanello is one. And we have determined to set forth within the heart of the earth—we who are the archangels of that certain birth out of the origin of the Most High God, Alpha and Omega.

Now we claim thy rod! We touch each one, O chelas of the light! We touch the heart, the soul, the crown, the third eye, and the seat of the sun! O sun disc, O mighty sun disc, O fountain of the Mother leaping unto the Father, now by the rod of power, wisdom, love, archangels and their legions surround now, in undulating spirals, that golden pink glow-ray.

Here then at Camelot, Helios and Vesta have determined to establish their place in the sun. Thus they send us a work we have begun so very long ago. Now we come once again, for we have already spun a sacred garment, a garment for each chela, homespun. It is the garment pilgrims wear, leaving the impress of their love right there, that that holy shroud, that vestment gold, might appear, then, in this and other octaves, there to disperse the light, a relic of the living, not the dead, of those who are blessed and upon their heads do wear a crown as victors bold.

Fearlessness Does Forge a Mighty Chalice Out of Gold

I have not forgotten the mighty quest for the resurrection flame, nor have I, beloved one, forgotten your name. That name is written in letters of gold.

Now, therefore, come and see how the chelas come to the altar. See how they then kneel, for Christ is here. And others who have gone before you now must wear that crown of light, the victorious victory of the fight, a well-chosen word, a sacred sword. Day by day and year by year is testimony now right here of knights and ladies of the flame who come now to intensify once again a commitment to freedom and to their Lord. The avatar of the age is one whom we now hold as chalice rare, as crystal cup. We raise it high. It is the body of our Lord.

Now once again he summons—he summons those pilgrims who have gone forth in a seeming unending spiral, now who have returned. They therefore assemble here, these blessed souls of light. They assemble here, and they are without fear.

Do you understand that to win the crown of glory, of God-mastery, it is every fear that you must conquer? For fear is a trembling of the cup, and God himself will not allow the chalice to be held by one without that vow—the vow that is made by purest love that casts out every fear. For the chalice must be held to receive the precious essence of his Spirit from which the souls of light might drink, and to spill it would be the unthinkable, for it is the element of himself.

Therefore, you will see, as the knights and ladies kneel who have won their victorious resurrection crown, that each one has conquered every fear of self, every fear within, without, every trembling, every self-doubt. Understand that fearlessness does forge a mighty chalice out of gold. That chalice—diamond-studded, a wonder to behold—is for the elixir of light that each one who wins the glorious fight and is crowned with a crown of gold must then take and drink and thereby become the transformed self, the transformation of that self.

I Would Impel You Higher and Higher and Higher

I AM in the six-pointed star of the lily whitened by ascension's flame. The LORD God has sent me here to seal each one in sacred resurrection fire. I would impel you higher and higher and higher—and this not by self-effort but by oneness with the rising spiral.

Note well, then, for I, Uriel, have the assignment of making altogether most clear, day by day in the coming year, the exposure, then, of the remainder of each doubt and fear. There are many other names for that trembling, many other disguises, many complexities of personality woven under and over and around to conceal an essential element of fear or doubt. Each and every one must be exposed.

For, my beloved, you have come to the throne of the Father, of the Son, of the blessed dove, the Spirit. You have come, called unto The Quest for the Resurrection. You have made it your own. You have prayed in your heart that you might atone for every sin of angels, men, elementals evolving here. Thus, the LORD God cannot withhold the requirement of that flame.

Where God is Desiring to Be God,
There Is the Flow of the Resurrection

The flaming presence of the mother-of-pearl is the rainbow ray. It is the banner of archangels unfurled. We are the bearers of a resurrection light. We come with a mighty pearl of Mother. We come now, that you might understand that the bubbling elixir of life is indeed the resurrection flame in liquid form, that you might drink, and having drunk, never thirst again.⁴ For all hunger is thereby satiated and you have found your oneness with the infinite flow of life.

I AM in the presence of the flame. I observe how the bubbling fountain of the flame does draw forth in every part of life each essential element. The very nature and fundamental characteristic of every part of creation is accelerated by this flame.

Do you see, then, that if you were to carry an element of doubt or fear with this flame, it would become an admixture of resurrection's fires, thereby resurrecting doubt and fear in all whom you would meet—an impossibility, an improbability. You would not desire it! God would not desire it! Therefore I explain to you the holy science of this sacred fire.

I AM in the light of the essential flame. Now be still as I pass it through your own solar plexus, the place of the sun. It is to bathe you, my beloved, to wash you that you might be cleansed. For, my beloved, you see, out of thy belly shall flow rivers of living water,⁵ fountains of mighty life-giving essence. Thus, it is that this is also Christ's own prophecy of the resurrection flame flowing from you for the holding of the balance of the elements.⁶ Where God is desiring to be God, there is the flow of the resurrection.

The Art of Letting Go

Now, my beloved, I encourage you to take heart. For you see, when you contemplate each fear, it is not you who are required to make it disappear. No, I say! It is the vibrant life of resurrection's flame! It is the intensity of that golden pink glow-ray! Truly, when it comes to the conquering of fear, it is simply the art of letting God perform his perfect work and of you letting go.

There is a posture of letting go. It is placing your hands one over the other to your heart and then releasing them opened, relaxed. It is the uncrossing of your legs and the gentle breathing. It is a "Peace, be still."⁷ It is a posture of the serenity, the security of a little child, a child that is pliable, waiting for the caring of the mother.

Thus is the resurrection flame a mother's caring. Even in the animal kingdom you will see how tender is the caring of the mother—the bathing, the cleansing, the feeding, the teaching, the setting of the example, and finally the training for life and independence. Beloved ones, so as all life reflects this caring, simply trust the Mother flame in the heart of the resurrection light to unburden you of all doubt and fear.

Each day, if you will pause for a moment simply to rest, to relax in body, mind, and soul, to untense every part of the whole mechanism and instrument of being, and for those moments of uncaring wherein God does do all the caring, let go and see how all of this debris will be transmuted, fire upon fire, and you will know the joy of confidence and the self-esteem that the Great Divine Director would have you to know—the sense of co-measurement with Reality. For all that is less than your God-affirmation of “I AM Real” is simply the unreality, the absence of the perfect love.

When you then understand the mighty light of Reality swallowing up and dissipating every doubt and fear, you will know why I have come to emphasize this point of your God-mastery and you will also know why the great Master of the sixth ray, our beloved Jesus Christ, our beloved Magda, have chosen to set the example of fearlessness, life eternal, God-mastery. For they have understood that this is the key to all of the souls evolving in this age.

In the Absence of Doubt and Fear, You Are Whole

Lay your foundations well, O my children. For I have a story to tell of the Aquarian age that must be built as the violet flame of freedom upon this foundation of wholeness and oneness with God. For in the absence of doubt and fear, you are one. You are whole. The violet flame is the alchemy of every miracle of science and religion.

We will not place the pyramid of the New Age upon a foundation of insecurity and of all the mental-emotional disorders and insanity. Are these not, every one, of doubt and fear, which beget every other sin and estrangement from God?

And so, you see, you name the cause and core. You name the enemy of the light. You see what you have not seen before so clearly, face-to-face. For I AM Uriel, and I speak to you as with the friend of God. And thus you see me as I AM. My rod is for the measuring, as with a mighty reed, of the inner temple and the inner court and the pillars thereof. For I have been sent to measure the condition of the inner Israel and thus to also prepare the way for the measuring of the Gentile nations. I, then, have an assignment. My legions are with me.

And what is the measuring by the reed? Well, you might say it is a part of the calculation of the glorious, joyous judgment at hand. Thus, like the census takers that come by the decade and by the century, the archangels come from time to time to measure the inner court to see what is the condition of the devotees of God and then what is the condition of the evolutions of earth. My census, then, will become a consensus whereby the Lords of Karma and the Four and Twenty Elders and the Cosmic Council will also make their determinations at the time of the summer solstice.

The Ceremony of the Crowning of the Knights and Ladies Is Concluded

I have come, then, to absorb you into my heart, to cradle you in the resurrection flame. I have tarried with you for the necessary moments to transfer a living light to your heart, to your cells, to your chakras.

Beloved ones, the ceremony of the crowning of the knights and ladies is concluded, and all stand before Jesus and Magda as these knights and ladies receive their magnificent scrolls of life. And with their crowns they go forth from your midst, graduates of a school that you will now enter and obey the rule. For it is a golden rule of life and it has the ruby ray, a flame intense and on fire. And one day your diadem shall be set with rubies and you will know, as they now know, that the blood of Christ and his body are represented as that mighty ruby and gold, as a balance of an inner path of light and of resurrection.

The quest for the resurrection has been won by some. Not all who began in this race have finished in this race. But then it is written, “The first shall be last and the last shall be first.”⁸ Thus, there are other classes for those who will take another round and a wider spiral. And now you have come, you who abound in love and vision and determination, not mere wishful thinking but a willing of action and a knowing that you can do it too, even as we have done.

The Great Meditation Room of the Universal Mother

You, my beloved, enter now within the heart, within the sphere of a Mother's pearl. A Mother's pearl is a meditation room. It exists somewhere. Would you like to know where? Well, I daresay you would, and I will tell you. It is in my retreat,⁹ there a giant sphere, a glistening pearl, a mighty pearl of Mother. It is, then, a place where untold angels may gather together.

We do not speak of seating capacity. We speak of capacity of consciousness. There is, in fact, no telling how many angels or chelas can assemble within the sphere. For you see, it depends on how many levitate and how many may walk upon the ceiling of the sphere. [Laughter]

But I AM in the center. I AM in the sun center of the mighty pearl. It is the golden pink glow-ray. It is a whirling point of light. It is a nucleus of energy, and all points within the circle are in reference to that point. For, my chelas, I ensoul the living Word.

O my beloved, for the opportunity to be within that pearl there have been many who have gone forth on most dangerous missions, and then those of sacrifice and martyrdom. For here is the great meditation room of the universal Mother. It is sealed, then, upon Terra by the flame, the service, and the ministration of all of the emissaries of the sixth ray. This has been our offering for the healing of consciousness, and even there do we hold the flame for the formation of the brain within the fetus of the incoming child. There we hold the forcefield and weave the threads for the integration of the mind of God with the vehicles of consciousness.

And so you may liken the mighty sphere of Mother unto the light that ascends from the base unto the crown. But when it has become the crown, the sphere signifies the mind of God. And of course upon that blessed head that has become a part of the great mother-of-pearl, there is the crown bestowed for the victorious quest for the resurrection.

Every Church That Is a Part of the True Church Is Built upon the Foundation of the Resurrection Flame

I bid you welcome to the path of the initiation of the archangels. We have come for our first round at Summit University.¹⁰ When certain numbers of souls have studied our teachings under Lord Maitreya,¹¹ we will come again. For concerning the quest and the path of the resurrection, there is much joy to be shared, much truth to be shown.

Now I bid you prepare, as he bid you prepare, in the ultimate loving of the giving of self for the feeding of the sheep.¹² As the little children feed their sheep, so let the grown shepherds now feed the children. In sharing the Word, in breaking the bread of life, you find yourselves many a time at sup with him. So it is. It is indeed the Path, and the band of disciples that he chose were chosen well to initiate the spiral of the resurrection flame.

Why, this is the foundation of Christianity! Did you not know it? Did you not understand why he came? He came for the abundant life, whose culmination is the translation of every physical atom, beginning with the supreme atom of the heart.

Now then, every church that is a part of the true Church is built upon the foundation of the resurrection flame—the threefold flame that has become all colors of the rainbow blended into the white light of Mother.

Is it any wonder that the culmination of victory—the sealing of the 2,000-year cycle and the wondrous occasion marked by this class of the resurrection quest—should also be the fulfillment of the initial thrust and impetus of that light?

Thus, from the tomb to the moment of the crowning, every disciple must walk the fourteen stations, Alpha and Omega, within each chakra.

It Remains for You to Become the Son

I AM Uriel. I AM rejoicing in the wonders of the light of the resurrection and in contemplation of the cleaning out of the dark places of the earth, which are only dark because of death, fear, doubt, psychic/astral manifestations. All these respond and are cleared by the alchemy of the resurrection flame and the violet flame when these two are one. Thus, the golden pink glow-ray, the petaled pink, and the violet flame now become joint heirs within you of your renewed consciousness of Christ the Lord.

Truly he has revealed himself this day in a unique way unto you, each one. Now it remains, my beloved, for you to become the Son. Amen.
