To Thread the Eye of the Needle

Part 1

The four Manus of the root races, my beloved, serve earth's evolutions in holding the balance of the Law with the Four Cosmic Forces. These four hold the cardinal points, north, south, east and west, the cardinal points of Divinity with which all must find congruency—the Father, the Son, the Holy Spirit, and the Mother.

We four therefore embody the elements of nature, of angelic hosts—of the chohans of the rays, angels, elementals, and evolutions of the four root races that remain to fulfill their fiery destiny upon earth, the fourth, fifth, sixth, and seventh root races.¹

I am your own blue lotus flame, Himalaya. With me stand Vaivasvata Manu, the God and Goddess Meru, and the Great Divine Director.² We come, therefore, bearing the light of the Christ flame of these holy ones of God.

It appears that the longevity of the stay upon earth has increased the karmic accountability of those earlier members of the earlier root races that remain, those of the fourth and the fifth, that ought to be the great-granddaddies and -grandmothers of those incoming avatars of the sixth and the seventh root races.

Beloved ones, as you know, the tilt of earth's axis, due to laggard karma, has caused an out-of-kiltering effect in the manifestation of the timetables of the sixth and the seventh root races. Some have said that the seventh root race is nigh in coming, and others have said that the sixth root race is only appearing now.

Realize that the avatar Jesus Christ came as the pivot point between the fourth and fifth root races and their entrenched manifestation of Brahminism and of the recalcitrance of the Sanhedrin and the Rabbinical schools, and these have existed as an inverted and reverted orthodoxy both in the traditions of East and West. He also came to set the Christ example for the sixth root race and to open the door to the example for the seventh in the very person of Saint Germain in numerous embodiments.

That which represents the apex, or was intended so, in the life of Francis Bacon—even that embodiment was almost a shortchanging for Saint Germain, for his divine rule upon earth ought to have been as king of the English-speaking peoples of the planet. Nevertheless, the teachings were set forth, and Francis Bacon left a mark that none can wipe out.³ It is a stain of truth that will not be removed from the garment of any of the four root races of earth's evolutions.

Thus the days are hastening. And we observe that some great forerunners of the seventh race have taken embodiment, and these are more numerous in the sixth root race, as they have come forth to occupy planet Earth in far greater numbers than many realize. This has to do with the shortening and the lengthening of cycles, as it must be so because of the interference with cosmic cycles that has happened not only in the last two hundred years but the last two thousand years.

The Intermingling of Races and Laggard Races with the Root Races

Now, beloved hearts, for many of you this planetary body is not home. Your home may be Venus or the God Star, Sirius, or beyond, and therefore you understand yourselves as pilgrims here and servants of Sanat Kumara. And many of you are most interested in fulfilling your individual divine plan, as many of the ascended masters today were interested in so doing when they were in embodiment. They have discovered, as you soon shall, that merely to fulfill one's own divine plan does not necessarily cut one free from this evolution or this planetary body, even if one is not a member of the embodied fourth, fifth, or sixth root races.

Therefore, you see, it is important to plan not only ahead in a straight line but wide, as though making the lines of a piece of a great cosmic pie, these lines fanning out from your own heart flame and including a much larger circle of the horizon and those many lifewaves that shall come over the horizon in search of the dawning light of your personal divinity.

What I am saying is this: that we who are the Manus, who have embodied the archetypal patterns of these races as well as the Law and the fiery destiny, have also tarried with this earth star perhaps far beyond what our own personal karma may have required. But the larger dharma of our service would not let us free until all evolutions coming forth with the God-stamp of our divinity should also find their freedom.

This represents, therefore, to you who would don the mantle of the shepherds of the race, a continuing challenge. For the challenge now is the intermingling of races and laggard races with the root races, even with the sixth root race and also the seed of the wicked and the fallen ones. And therefore for the rescue of the lightbearer, all must attend the harvest.

You Hold the Key to the Overcoming of Large Groups of Earth's Evolutions

Now we have isolated a very particular and peculiar problem for each of the many sectors of the root races, for there are many lifewaves and generations that in and of themselves within the root races, as you know, form subroot races and karmic groups.

We have realized, therefore, that many of you, unbeknownst to yourselves and without realizing the reason for your specialization, find yourselves in a work, a sacred labor, a profession, or engaged in a study or an emphasis in your life service that involves a very important segment of one of the root races, those presently here and ultimately of the fulfillment of the sixth and the seventh lifewaves.

Therefore, beloved, we would have you understand that without your realization of the fact, you actually hold in your hand and in your heart this day the key to the overcoming and the victory and the divine plan of large groups of earth's evolutions, some of whom who do not even reside upon this continent—although America being what she is, the great melting pot of all evolutions, you can always find at least representatives of those lifewaves.

Understand this and also understand that there is a point of illumination and a teaching of the Law on the path to self-mastery that is often particularly understandable to certain groups of individuals. Some will understand the mystery of the spoken Word, others the violet flame, others the interpretation of biblical prophecy or the words and works of Christ or Krishna or Buddha. Finding the particular thread to thread the eye of a particular needle, of the bent of consciousness, therefore becomes your assignment from the Manus of the root races and the members of the Karmic Board in this year, 1983.

The Assignment of Going Two-by-Two

You have heard the Goddess of Liberty and beloved Portia speak to translate the “Heart, Head, and Hand Decrees”⁴ into the languages of the ethnic groups that are found in the United States and to bring into the light and into the teaching of the violet flame those individuals who have come this far by the call of the heart, by the call of love, and who have settled here and therefore have already imbibed the elements of the flame of liberty as well as the spirit of America—those who are free yet to oppose the activities of Communism in their home nations and those who have at least some protection from this nation, which they ought to have in the defense of the liberty of their karmic group.

This translation of the “Heart, Head, and Hand Decrees” remains an assignment, and I ask that it be accelerated and acted upon physically, coordinated with your other publishing goals of this year. It is important that needle rays—I said needle rays—from the heart of Mighty Cosmos penetrate as crystal splinters of sacred fire into the hearts and souls of people who have never been reached before.

It is important that you listen and listen well to Mother’s teaching on the two-by-two,⁵ which equals the City Foursquare. This is an important assignment as your initiation not only from Jesus Christ and Lord Maitreya but from all of the Buddhas of the earth. They have sent their disciples two-by-two across the nations, and you must understand that it is not necessary to travel a million miles but to pick a neighborhood in your city and to go door-to-door and to give the teachings of the masters and the concepts of the New Age, bearing the magnificent focus of Heart magazine⁶ and presenting it as your statement of truth and as the open door to the understanding of brotherhood among nations.

Blessed ones of the light, this is an assignment that is necessary on the path of every bodhisattva. It requires both humility and boldness. It requires the willingness to make oneself, as the prophets of old, a gazing-stock, and perhaps to allow oneself to be looked down upon by those self-styled superior elements of society who consider such activities the actions only of the poor and the uneducated.

I speak, then, of going door-to-door with the message of the heart and the realization that in some areas of life, pride and the pride of fallen ones do not allow for this conduct nor for the inclusion of people who so carry on their life within the higher echelons of society.

To Be or Not to Be

You have come to a conference on the Buddhas in winter, and perhaps you wonder how this very theme relates to all that has taken place here. I assure you that the Buddhas in winter are the Buddhas within the five secret rays surrounding your own heart and that this conference is convoked because it was necessary for you to be assembled, to be still, and to be one-pointed in your attention so that a mighty work could be carried on within the temple of your own being and within the temple of your heart chakra for the fortification of your hearts against the battle and unto the victory.

Therefore I, Himalaya, address you on the very activities of the fallen ones and their determination to eat away at the four lower bodies of the individual. Christ the Lord gave the teaching, “Fear not them which kill the body, but those which destroy the soul in hell.”⁷ There are those upon earth in this hour who manifest the ultimate of Antichrist. Mr. Andropov,⁸ for one, has used means for the destruction of the soul in hell for all the years of his activities with the KGB in the Soviet Union and throughout the world.

Realize, then, that the destruction of the soul in hell is the destruction of the sheaths of light, the vehicles of consciousness, the means of self-expression, self-awareness, Christhood and Buddhahood that are accorded to the soul. You realize that all that is beneath the octave of your mighty I AM Presence and outside of the mighty rings of your Christ Self is vulnerable. All is mutable, which means subject to change. All is temporal, which means subject to the decay of time.

Realize, then, that the physical body is subject to the law of disintegration, as is the astral body. The mental body has its strength only when it is the embodiment of the Christ mind and therefore does endure beyond the cycles of dissolution, when the Christ mind is the reality of the mind of the individual. The carnal mind itself and the sheath of the mental body, when it is used as an instrument for the carnal mind, is also subject to disintegration. And the fire body, the least mutable, may yet come under a certain assault by the most sophisticated means of the sinister force, especially the lower etheric body, where there are the records of discord, disease, and death.

Now, if you can imagine these lower bodies—all but the highest levels of etheric perfection being subject to the corrosion of the sinister force and a deliberate plot whereby the force literally eats away at these bodies—you can see that what would remain is the soul itself, naked.

Now, this nakedness is the station of the cross wherein Jesus Christ is stripped of his garments.⁹ The stripping of the garments is the stripping of the vessels. The question is “to be or not to be”—whether or not when stripped of your vessels you would remain an identity, an id-entity, a manifestation of individualization of the God flame. Stripped of your four lower bodies in this moment, beloved, what would remain of your selfhood and of your consciousness?

All that would remain is the pure white fire of your chakras, your threefold flame, and that which your own beloved Lanella often referred to as “the substance of soul”—soul substance or soul stuff. And this substance of soul is like a cloud of fiery energy that surrounds the seat-of-the-soul chakra. Therefore it is like Tinkerbell appearing as a light, a light that goes on and off, almost like a firefly.

The identity of the soul is like a white Christmas ball with a fire in the center, and it glows by the quality of consciousness that has been retained by the individual below the level of the heart, below the level of the Christ that is sustaining God’s awareness within the soul.

The soul is often seen as the personality of the individual and the manifestation of the outer self. It is that portion of the lifestream that continues to evolve. It is the potential for Be-ness, itself also subject to nonpermanence by the wrong exercise of free will.

The Fallen Ones Drive and Drive and Drive against That Vulnerability of Each and Every Living Soul

Therefore, beloved ones, we must consider on the one hand the needs of the root races remaining on earth and your role as shepherds, and we must consider on the other hand the attempts of the false hierarchy to erode and corrode the sheaths, or garments, of the members of these root races precisely according to what is most important from the standpoint of the sinister force to destroy in terms of the divine plan of those root races.

The fallen ones have computers in their astral retreats and lairs, where they have noted carefully the lifewaves of earth, where they have set their mark and their targets. Why, beloved ones, if Mr. Andropov could actually have amassed Western technology to create a tremendous computer system in the Soviet Union that keeps track of millions of people both within the Iron Curtain and in the West,¹⁰ do you not think that the masterminds behind him and the false hierarchy of the astral plane, who have been doing this for tens of thousands of years, should not have a far more accurate recording of the lifestreams?

Every lifestream upon this planet is to them a potential God and a potential Christ whom they see as a threat to their own continuing nonexistence, their own continuing unreality. And therefore as easily as you can bring to the fore on a giant computer system, on its screen, the outline and profile of statistics on an individual, so it can be done in the astral plane, and it is done.

Therefore when you put together the entire record of a lifestream of previous incarnations, as is done by the fallen ones, it is easy to perceive at a glance what is the weakness, what is the vulnerability, what is the point of the Achilles' heel. And therefore the fallen ones drive and drive and drive against that vulnerability of each and every living soul.

Therefore they have devised ways and means to work against the children of the light. They have their psychiatric hospitals, they have their injections, they have their manipulations of the brain. This is where individuals may be captured by them. In the West they have a constant putting across in the nations psychotronic energy, which is intertwined with and amplified by rock music. They have a mass campaign of using drugs of every kind—these to destroy chemically the strength of light that surrounds the chakras, to begin to corrode the astral body, the physical body, to begin to destroy the cell patterns and to alter the DNA. Nation by nation across the face of the earth, the fallen ones have used various techniques. Genetic engineering has all but overburdened and destroyed the light of the people of the African continent.

Beloved hearts, if you look at each nation and even the segments of nations, you can see those things that have been used by the fallen ones to destroy the capacity of the mind to transcend itself, to go beyond the brain, to go into those electronic currents that vibrate around the brain and the chakras that connect the soul, the living soul, by the heart flame to the mind of God, to the Christ Self, and to the I AM Presence.

When the Individual Is Blinded to His Own Fiery Destiny

Beloved hearts, you must understand the reality of this problem. Even some of those substances—heavy spices and habitual uses that are made in India of other types of substances, such as betel—have brought about a density or perhaps an indulgence, a weakness that involves the absence of the balance of the yin and the yang in the chemistry of the body.

And therefore people who become weak—weakened in the spine because the Kundalini is siphoned off by various means—find themselves weakened in the mind, in the body, in the emotions, and they are not able to summon the strength that is adequate and powerful enough in the light of the internal Krishna to manifest the antithesis to that which is sent against them as the great overwhelming darkness. It is a darkness that is a counterfeit of that dark night of the soul and the dark night of the Spirit, which comes under the protection of the Manus to those souls who must enter into the fullness of their Christhood.

Therefore, the fallen ones anticipate the initiation of the transfer of the fruit of knowledge as well as the fruit of the Tree of Life. They anticipate all of the initiations that must come to pass on the path of the Christ and the Buddha. They counterfeit these. They preempt them. They come too early, before the individual is ready. And therefore the individual himself, in the very process, surrenders his light and becomes the slave of one more planetary beast of mass control. This having been accomplished, the individual is securely blinded to his own fiery destiny and desensitized to even the sensitivity that he should have to the coming of the Elect One, to the guru or the teacher who could rescue him from his plight.

Thus you have noticed how those who are on drugs do not wish to hear that drugs are not good for them and resent the approach of anyone who would help them. As you know very much, this is the marijuana entity or the heroin entity. And therefore once beset by the entity, the individual has sealed himself from illumination and enters a downward spiral unless some son of God lays down his life and takes unto himself that conglomerate of the marijuana beast or the planetary beast of heroin or cocaine or PCP or all of these deadly substances, which were also known on Atlantis.

A Dispensation from Beloved Alpha and Omega

Therefore, beloved ones, the four Manus come with a dispensation, multiplied by the nine Buddhas from beloved Alpha and Omega,¹¹ that you individually, by the power of your own Buddhist mind and Buddhist heart, shall be given the instruction at the Grand Teton Retreat¹² at night—if you so choose to receive it and to make the fervent call—that you will understand what is the specialization of your own heart and your own ability to teach a certain aspect of the teaching, which is the wisdom of the Law and of the misuse of the light on earth by way of exposures of the manipulation of the people.

Your specialization as Above so below will allow you to converse in many circles where interests may be more avid regarding material circumstances and betrayals, such as in the government or the economy, than it would be in things of the Spirit. And therefore you must always have in your miracle pouch any number of jewels to choose from that you may use.

Now, at the Grand Teton Retreat, under a coordinated program of Lord Lanto and Lord Confucius, you will then learn what is your present specialization, what has been your field of concentration in many previous embodiments that would be ideal for you to bring forth and multiply again and make use of it because it is treasure in your cosmic bank account.

And then you will be given the ability to develop this and perfect it, both on the inner and the outer.

You will be shown which lifewaves and groups of individuals on earth you will find and who have the greatest appeal for your specialization. You will be shown what is the divine plan of these people—who are they, where are they, what is their economic and educational level, how you should approach them, and in what level of language and communication. You will also be shown what is their divine plan and what is the opposition to their divine plan by the mass organization, such as the KGB and other nefarious forces that are alive and active in the astral planes of every nation upon earth.

He is also the hierarch of the Retreat of the Blue Lotus in the Himalayan mountains and guardian of the ray of the masculine aspect of the Godhead focused directly from the heart of Alpha. The gentle radiance of Himalaya can be felt throughout the East as a tangible presence drawing the pilgrims of all nations into a divine awareness of the flame of the blue lotus. (3) Francis Bacon left a mark that none can wipe out. Francis Bacon, the son of Queen Elizabeth I and Lord Leicester and the rightful heir to the throne of England, wrote the plays and sonnets attributed to William Shakespeare, plus The Advancement of Learning, The New Atlantis, and other works that sparked the English Renaissance. In a dictation given on November 24, 1983, Jesus commented on the influence of Francis Bacon on civilization. He said: "Understand how the one mind of our beloved Francis Bacon influenced the course of Western civilization and laid the foundation for the New World, the new science, and the golden age. Realize that many who walked the earth in his life[time] took on the very profile of his soul. . . . Think how Saint Germain, therefore, did write down all of those molecules of word—coded, ciphered—demonstrating the interactions of light and darkness in the human scene and on the stage of the world. Thus the lessons of the parables now become the plays of Shakespeare, which you ought to know far better than you do. . . . Realize that in the absence of Francis Bacon, this world would be several octaves lower in awareness, in enlightenment, and in illumination." (5) Listen well to Mother's teaching on the two-by-two. The two-by-two, door-to-door program was introduced at Summit University in 1976 when students went two-by-two, knocking on doors in Los Angeles to introduce people to the teachings of the ascended masters and to invite them to a lecture or conference. The messenger explained that this was a required initiation on the Path, based on Jesus' sending forth his disciples to preach, saying, "the alchemy is between the flame in your heart, the flame in the people inside that house, and the flame of the ascended masters who accompany you." He previously served as the Chairman of the KGB from 1967 until 1982. During his leadership as head of the KGB and as General Secretary, he advocated the destruction of dissent in all its forms, including the establishment of psychiatric hospitals. He stated that the struggle for human rights was an imperialist plot to undermine the Soviet state. Andropov played a key role in ruthlessly suppressing the 1956 Hungarian Revolution and the 1968 uprising in Czechoslovakia. (9) Matt. 27:28–30; John 19:23, 24. (10) A computer system in the Soviet Union. As Chairman of the KGB and later as General Secretary, Yuri Andropov actively pursued the modernizing of Soviet surveillance, including the use of computer technology to track dissidents and monitor individuals through computerized data banks. Andropov also focused on gathering strategic and technological intelligence from the West, targeting US tech sectors. As of 2026, the Russian Federation continues to use a sophisticated, multi-layered digital surveillance system to track millions, including dissidents, within Russia and in certain foreign countries.
